Is anybody happier because you passed his way?

Does anyone remember that you spoke to him today?

*The day is almost over,
and its toiling time is through;*

Is there anyone to utter now a kindly word of you?

*Can you say tonite,
in parting with the day
that's slipping fast,*

That you helped a single brother of the many that you passed?

Is a single heart rejoicing over what you did or said?

*Does the man whose hopes were fading,
now with courage look ahead?*

Did you waste the day, or use it?

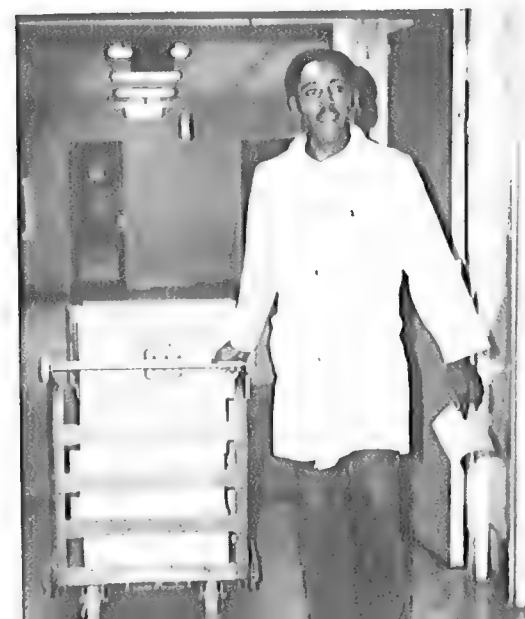

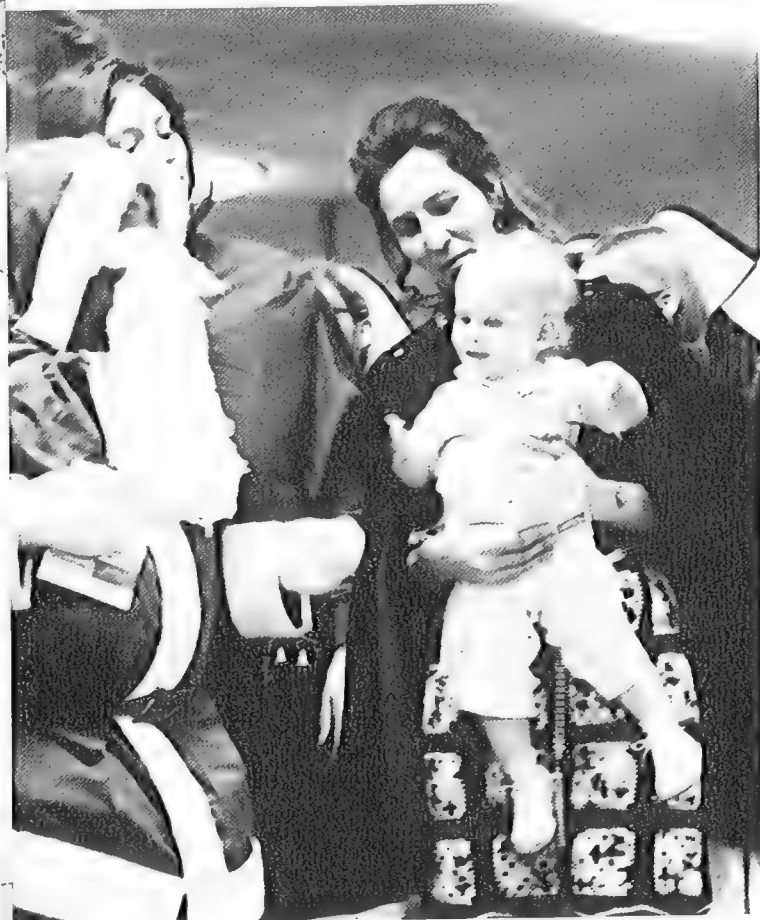

*Was it well
or sorely spent?*

WINTER

Dear Graduates,

One of the chief satisfactions to me as Administrator of Vassar Brothers Hospital is to realize how far into the nation and the world our influence has extended because of our School of Nursing. As this class is graduated, we are all proud to know that the high standards of expert training, scholarship, integrity and character-building which have made the School such an outstanding one will be reflected in each student as she enters the field as a professional.

The responsibility of a School such as ours is an awesome one. We are pledged to do all in our power to equip students to be nurses who will be an honor to their profession. Over the years, it has been gratifying to see the students' response to these efforts and this class has been no exception to the fine record of the past.

Your class is a very special one in another way as it is the last in our long history. The decision to close the School has unfortunately been inevitable and unavoidable, and our only joy in this sad situation is that we are sending out into the world of health service such a fine group of qualified young people to do honor to the name of Vassar Hospital.

We have always felt that the hospital and the School were not separate entities, but rather parts of the whole, and it is our hope that the many Alumnae of our School will also feel that they are still a very close part of our hospital family.

Our gratitude and our warm wishes for your future go with you.

Louis E. Breglia
Administrator

ADMINISTRATION

To the Class of '72

Your spirit and enthusiasm for nursing have been a source of inspiration to all in nursing service. We will be happy to have you join our staff.

I am proud to have known you and congratulate you on your accomplishments. I hope the future will prove very successful for you both in nursing and your personal life.

Johanna McCarthy, R. N.
Director of Nursing Service

To the Class of 1972:

Today you stand at a crossroad. This year you graduate from Vassar Brothers Hospital School of Nursing, the eighty-third and last class to do so. You will have the same feelings as members of other classes before you: satisfaction, elation, fear, and sadness. You will have, as well, a wider field from which to choose; a greater diversity of paths upon which to tread — infinite nursing opportunities.

May you choose the path that will lead you to your most personal satisfaction and happiness and fulfill your desire for service to mankind.

Sincerely,

Evaline P Mayhan

(Miss) Evaline P. Mayhan
Director of Education

To the Graduates of 1972:

May each of you successfully meet the ever changing challenges of life and your chosen profession.

Cynthia Flynn

To the Graduates of 1972:

Kindness and understanding I wish for you, along the winding and ever changing road to success.

Barbara Smith

Dear Graduates,

You are the last and inevitably this makes you particularly special. Guard what you have gained here and make it grow. This is the ending but just as surely it is the beginning. The school existed never for itself, but for you. I shall be hoping and cheering.

Fondly,
Dolores Ann Gardner

Training is a prologue to your life and your career.

Mrs. E. Campbell

To the Class of 1972,

Remember your arrival to these new surroundings? Faces captured by the spirit of newborn innocence to be mothered by the arms of the hospital walls; hearts pounding with both fear and excitement; the lullaby each night of facts, figures and formulas. Independence and self-confidence began to creep and then crawl onto your toddling path. You are now standing alone, grasping the cup of ingredients that will help you to continue to grow and develop to a height of success that you desire in nursing.

I try to look at others around me not as masses alienated by social or cultural differences, but as brothers and sisters united by the universal will to survive. The Uniform

Our uniform has passed through four major changes. The most recent previous style was selected over twenty-five years ago. It consisted of a blue and white striped gown with separate white collar and cuffs, white apron and bib. The present uniform was adopted in 1970, and consists of a blue and white striped princess style with attached collar and cuffs, with a white front and back overall apron attached at the sides.

A stray and frightened group we came two years ago September
Who ever thought we'd ever know
the girls we'll now remember
Now, never to be forgotten as the future comes to stay Always to be remembered in a very special way
Days of fun and laughter mixed equally with tears
Forever locked within our hearts in all the coming years
Many friendships we have made, some vague, some bound to keep
Memories to be recalled, never buried deep
So, my friend, don't cry, even though we soon must part
For each one of us will ever remain, within the others heart . . .
